A snake found in Africa is called the splitting snake by the Boers. It is between two and three feet long and is especially bold and active, readily attacking every one who approaches it.
In confinement it is very savage, opening its mouth and ejecting its fangs, from which the poison may be often observed to drop and even sometimes to be forcibly ejected, whence the name given it by the Boers.

Discernment.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Ring in the Ears.
Persistent ringing in the ears is not only a disagreeable and annoying sensation, but it may mean serious trouble. Ringing in the ears is a condition resulting from colds. The catarrhal infection of the nose and throat spreads into the eustachian tube, and the congestion and swelling following cause the ringing in ears. The trouble, unless relieved, will result in deafness. Sufferers from this condition should seek the advice of a nose and throat specialist without delay.

E-X-P-E-R-T-S

have declared that in the history of moving pictures only four "technically" perfect photoplays have been produced.
Did you know that? Well, that is what they say. And the Paramount feature,

—"The Cheat," at the —STAR theater tonight and Monday night, is one of these four.

—"The Cheat" does not teach, preach, lecture, scold or sermonize; it points no moral, nor does it adorn a tale.

—And yet the story is so unusual—unique would not be too emphatic a word—and its development so adroitly and so tensely handled, that the audience sits thrilled, hushed, expectant to the last for the unguessed denouement which, when it comes, so surprises, startles and mentally crumples it that it emerges only slowly from its state of enmeshed bewildered and engulfed pyrronism over those incidents that for one and one-quarter hours it has seen and felt.

WEDDING BELLS FAIL TO JINGLE

The following concerning the marimonial difficulties of some Grants Passites at Redding, California, is contained in the Redding Searchlight of Thursday:

"A double wedding, in which a mother and daughter were to be the brides, was frustrated yesterday morning because the lover of the daughter could not get a marriage license. He was not old enough.

"Charles C. Mahan, a mining man from Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. Anna Ferry, of Grants Pass, Ore., together with her daughter, Miss Marie Ferry, and Earl Le Vere, a young man from Grants Pass also, comprised an automobile party arriving in Redding Wednesday morning. They rode in a large touring car, driven by a chauffeur.

"Mahan and Mrs. Ferry went to the county clerk's office at the earliest possible hour. They had no trouble in getting a marriage license.
Earl Le Vere, the young man of classic name from Grants Pass, and Miss Marie Ferry, aged only 16, but pretty and sweet, declared that they wanted to be married also, and would the county clerk please issue them a license? Mrs. Ferry was willing to give her consent. Le Vere said he was twenty-one years of age, but the chauffeur and Mahan seemed to know better.

"The ardent lover called up Grants Pass, Ore., on the long distance phone. He asked for Judge C. G.
Gillette, but his grandmother, Mrs.
James Marsh, answered. "You come right home. I won't give my consent for you to be married in Redding. Come home and get married if you want to."

"Mr. Mahan and Mrs. Ferry hurried off to the ministers, being followed in a crestfallen way by Mr. Le Vere and Miss Marie."

Some Queer English Names.

We may puzzle our brains over the tongue twisting names which France and Russia have given to some of their towns, but England furnishes a few quite as dazling as that of Przemysl.
Hurstmonceux, for instance, is pronounced Her-so; Kirkcudbright, Kircoo-bree; Davenport, Dantry; Leominster, Lemster, and Evesham is called E-sham.—London Opinion.
